

Privacy Policy

This privacy notice discloses the privacy practices for the InBios International, Inc., (InBios) Website. This privacy notice applies solely to information collected by this Website. It will notify you of the following:

- What personally identifiable information is collected from you through the Website, how it is used and with whom it may be shared.
- What choices are available to you regarding the use of your data.
- The security procedures in place to protect against misuse of your information.
- How you can correct any inaccuracies in the information.

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing

We are the sole owners of the information collected on this site. We only have access to/collect information that you voluntarily give us via email or other direct contact from you. We do not sell or rent this information to third parties. We will use your information to respond to you, regarding the reason you contacted us. Unless you ask us not to, we may contact you via email in the future to tell you about specials, new products or services, or changes to this privacy notice.

Registration: In order to use this Website, we may require that you first complete a registration form. During registration a user is required to give certain information (such as name and email address). This information is used to contact you about the products/services on our site in which you have expressed interest. Demographic information (such as gender or age) is not required.

Cookies: We may use “cookies” on this site. A cookie is a piece of data stored on a site visitor’s hard drive to help us improve your access to our site and identify repeat visitors to our site. For instance, when we use a cookie to identify you, you would not have to log in a password more than once, thereby saving time while on our site. Usage of a cookie is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information on our site.

Sharing: We may partner with a third party outside of our organization to provide specific services. We will not share your information with such third parties, other than as necessary to fulfill your request, e.g. to ship an order or to provide specific services. When the user signs up for these services, we will share names, or other contact information that is necessary for the third party to provide these services. These parties are not allowed to use personally identifiable information except for the purpose of providing these services.

Your Access to and Control Over Information

You may opt out of any future contacts from us at any time. You can do the following at any time by contacting us via the email address or phone number given on our Website:

- See what data we have about you, if any. Some data may be redacted or inaccessible consistent with security precautions.
- Change/correct any data we have about you. We retain the right to keep a copy of any data for compliance or regulatory purposes.
- Express any concern you have about our use of your data.

Security

We take precautions to protect your information. When you submit sensitive information via the Website, your information is protected both online and offline. Wherever we collect sensitive information (such as credit card data), that information is encrypted and transmitted to us in a secure way. You can verify this by looking for a lock icon in the address bar and looking for “https” at the beginning of the address of the Web page. While we use encryption to protect sensitive information transmitted online, we also protect your information offline. Only employees who need the information to perform a specific job (for example, billing or customer service) are granted access to personally identifiable information. The computers/servers in which we store personally identifiable information are kept in a secure environment. If you have questions or concerns regarding this Privacy Notice, you should contact us immediately via telephone or email at the contact information provided within this Website.